

What type of information do we collect?

We collect and store any information you provide to us on the website/app or any other means, primarily via your intake form. This may include your PPI (name, birthdate, address). We do not collect or store your credit card information.

How do we collect information and how is it used?

When you conduct a transaction on the website, as part of the process, we collect personal information you give us such as your name, address, and email address. Your personal information will be used to complete the purchase process.

If you join our mailing list or become a hypnotherapy client, your email address will be stored and we may send you occasional newsletters, updates, coupons, or e-birthday greetings.

When you provide information on your intake form, it is used to lay the foundation for creating an appropriate treatment plan, setting the stage for excellent therapeutic results, and as a discussion tool for the intake interview. It is then stored electronically in a password protected file as well as in a locked paper file storage container. After 5 to 7 years, the paper file is shredded.
